Free forwarding with a 084 Number to a UK mobile or landline

When forwarding calls to an 084 number onto your UK mobile or landline, you won't have to pay anything. This is one of the main reasons these numbers have established themselves and are used by a wide range of businesses as their main contact number.

This also makes these particular numbers great for using as a Fax to Email, Voicemail or Information Line service.

Making the cost to call clearer when calling 084 Service numbers

Under the new rules designed by Ofcom, when someone calls a 'service' number the cost to call will be split into an Access Charge going to their phone company, plus a Service Charge set by the company or organisation they are calling.

What you need to tell your callers

Under the new system, the cost of calls must be explained in a simpler format such as:
“Calls cost 5p per minute, plus your phone company’s access charge.”
